3. Platform Role & Limitations

CRITICAL CLARIFICATION — CreditBuddy's Role

CreditBuddy is a technology intermediary. We connect you to partner institutions — we do not lend money, provide courses, or employ you. The relationship for each outcome (loan, education, gig work) is between you and the respective partner institution. CreditBuddy's role is to facilitate discovery, application processing, profile matching, and data transmission only.

3.1 BORROW Vertical

- CreditBuddy facilitates loan applications to partner NBFCs and banks. All credit decisions — approval, rejection, interest rates, and disbursement — are made solely by the NBFC/Bank Partner.
- CreditBuddy does not guarantee credit approval. Eligibility criteria are determined by the NBFC/Bank Partner.
- Loan funds, if approved, are disbursed directly by the NBFC/Bank Partner to your bank account. CreditBuddy does not handle, receive, or disburse loan amounts at any time.
- A Key Facts Statement (KFS) setting out the APR and all charges will be provided by the NBFC/Bank Partner before you accept a loan. You must review the KFS carefully before proceeding.
- Your repayment obligations are to the NBFC/Bank Partner, not to CreditBuddy. For repayment queries, contact the NBFC/Bank Partner's grievance mechanism.

3.2 LEARN Vertical

- CreditBuddy aggregates and provides discovery access to educational content from third-party EdTech partners. We do not create, certify, or guarantee any course content.
- Certificates, accreditations, and learning outcomes are the responsibility of the respective EdTech partner. CreditBuddy disclaims liability for content accuracy, course completion, or certification validity.
- Any payment for courses is processed directly by the EdTech partner or via their designated payment gateway.

3.3 EARN Vertical

- CreditBuddy provides a discovery and matching platform for gig work and freelancing opportunities listed by third-party employer partners.
- All employment contracts, work assignments, payment obligations, and employer-employee or employer-contractor relationships are established directly between you and the employer partner. CreditBuddy is not your employer.
- CreditBuddy does not guarantee availability of gigs, minimum earnings, or continued access to opportunities.
